Dear Russ,

Seems that I've been holding on to Andre Norton's The Touchstone Stars proposal for -- much longer than I thought I had been. I'm afraid I'm going to have to pass. The proposal sounds perfectly solid, but I've been rather overcome with anthology proposals over the last couple of months (must be something in the air) and I've finally decided to say no to everything, at least for a while. I'm therefore returning the proposal herewith.

Thanks for the look. I'm sure you'll get a great offer for it.

Best,

Lou Aronica

Called Russ and asked him to go ahead + call other publishers.

Will do!

Dear Andre:

FYI, the enclosed. Did you want us to continue with other submissions or would you prefer to go ahead on your own? We'd be happy to continue, but it's up to you, of course.

Best wishes,
